The Blackboard of 1967

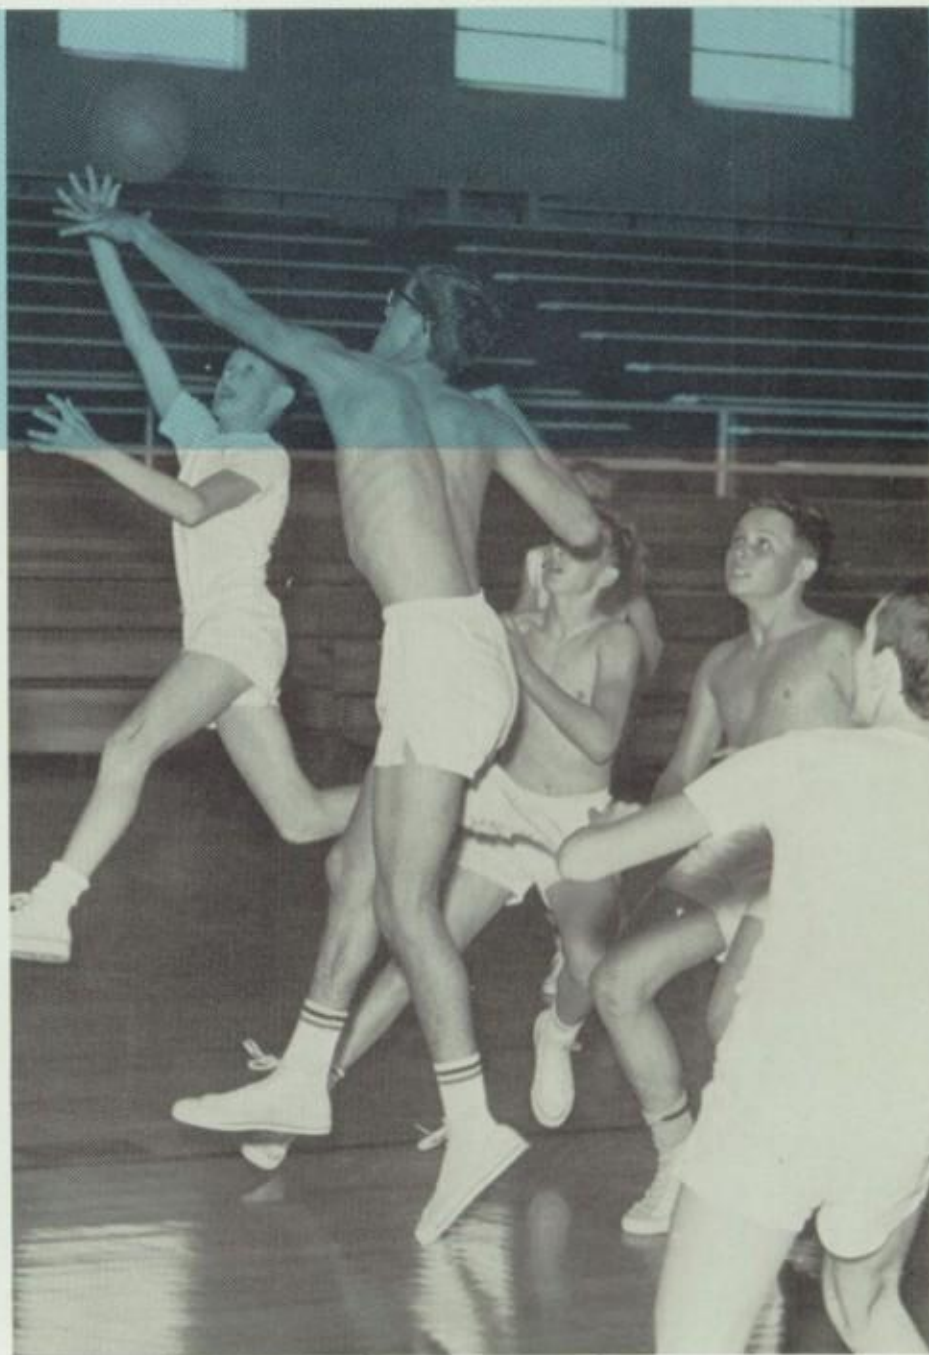

Granville Wells High School
M.S.D. of Western Boone County

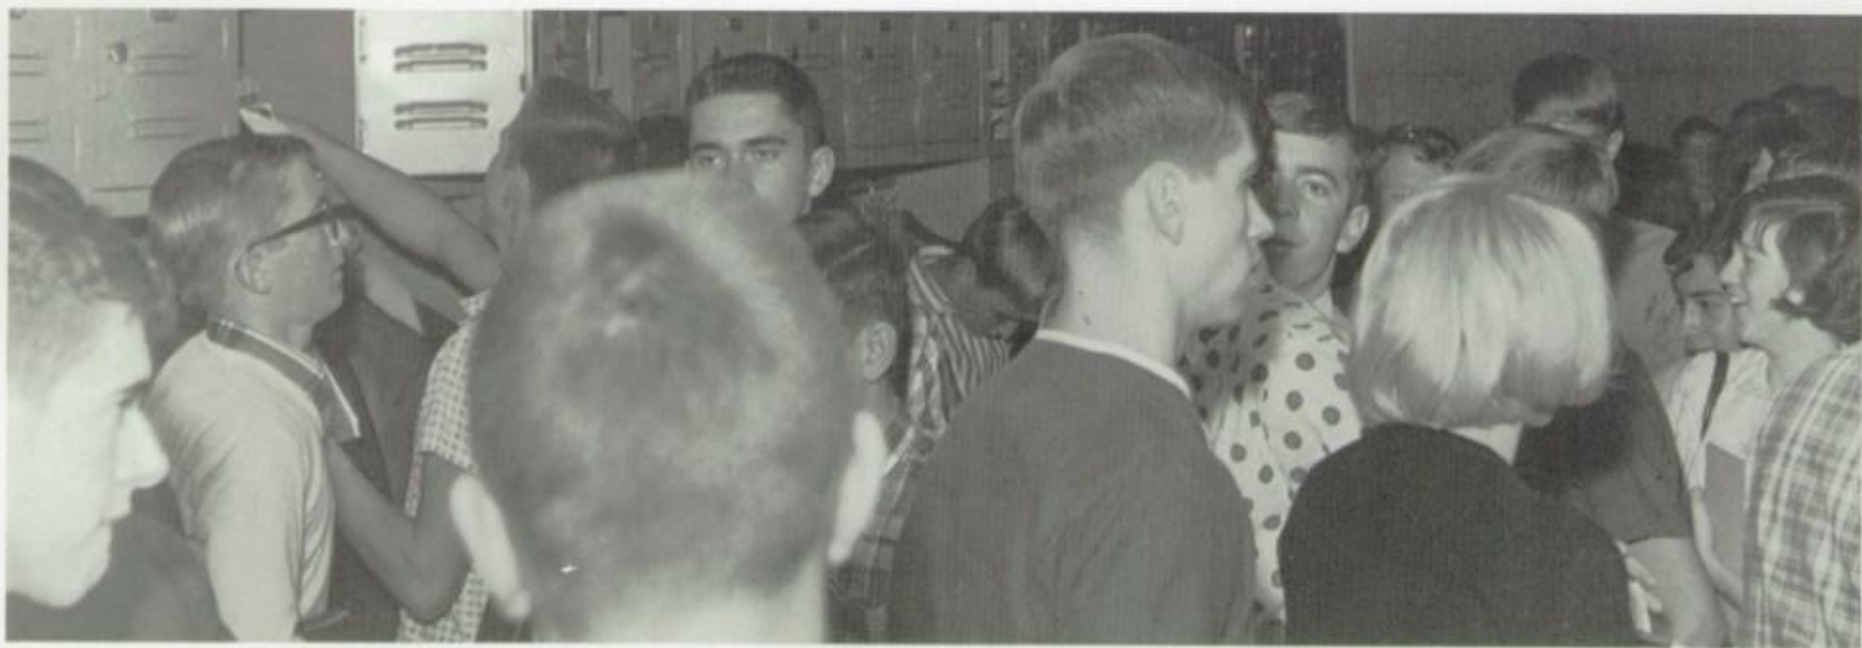

A school is many things, each of them an integral part of learning. The search for truth, the expression of ideas, the fervor of athletic competition and the development of skills occupy the hours at Granville Wells. These hours that moved so slowly now fly in the face of Time.

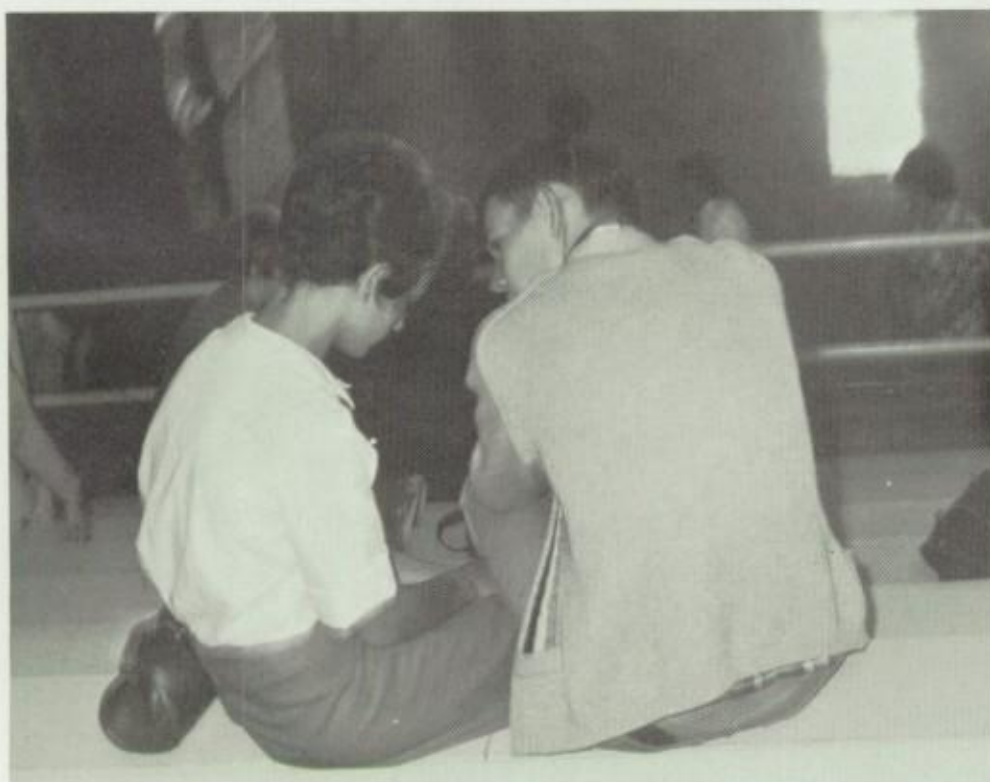

The Many Faces of Time

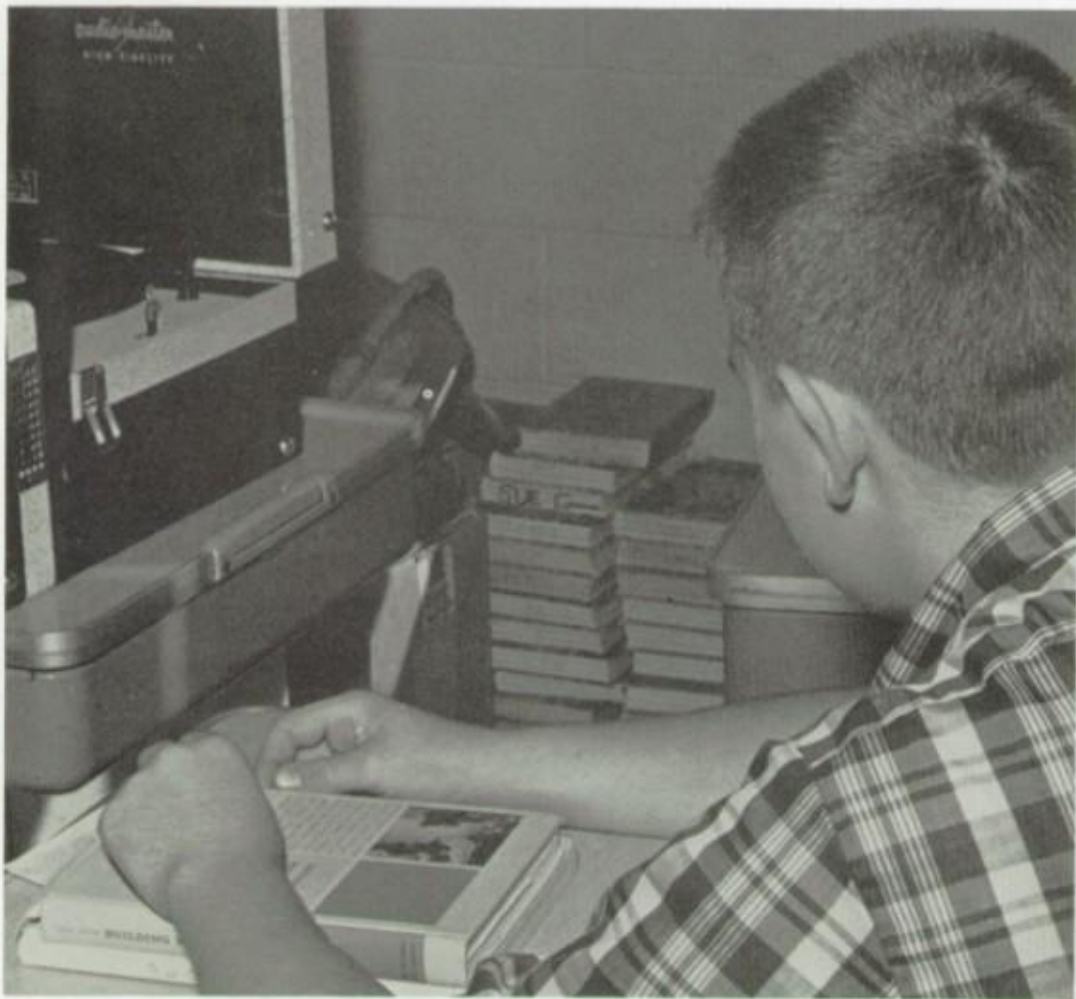

A long drink of water . . .

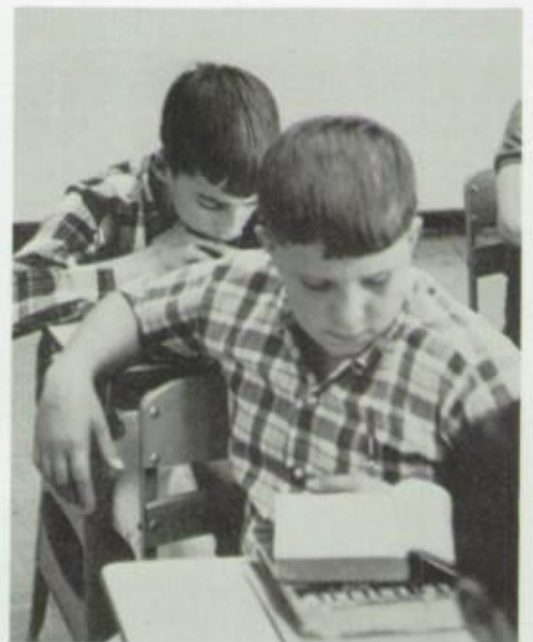

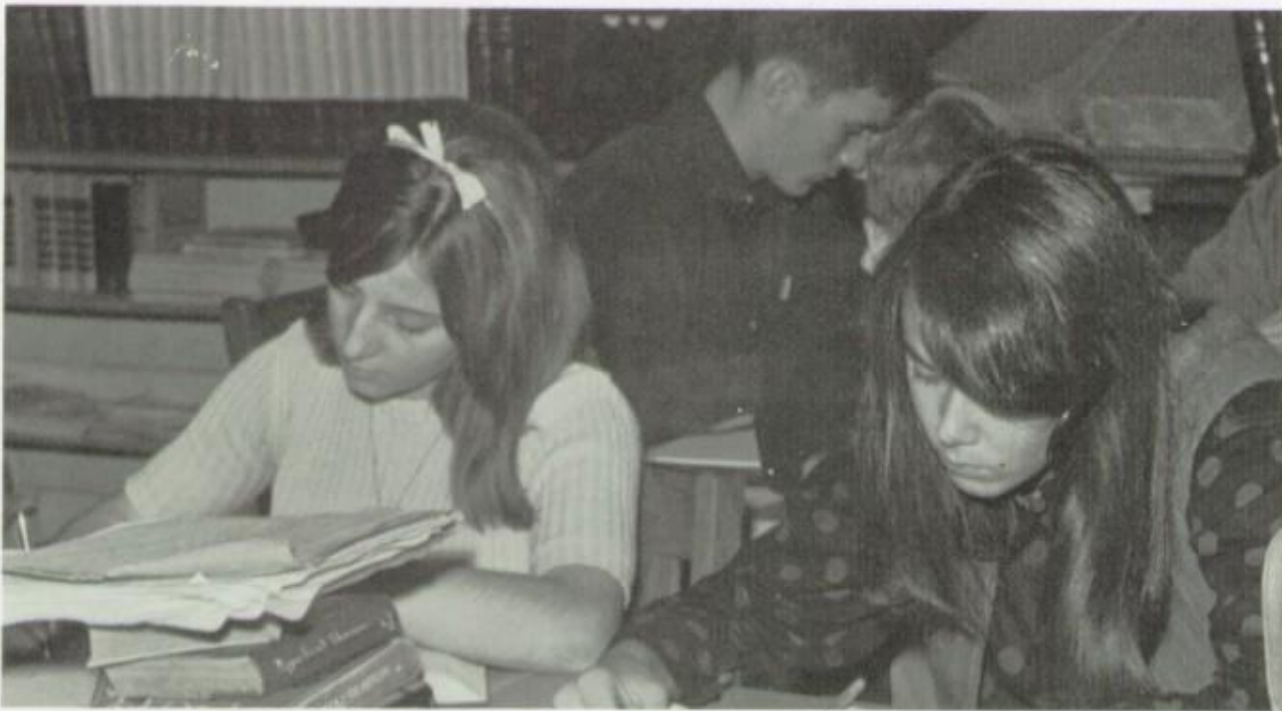

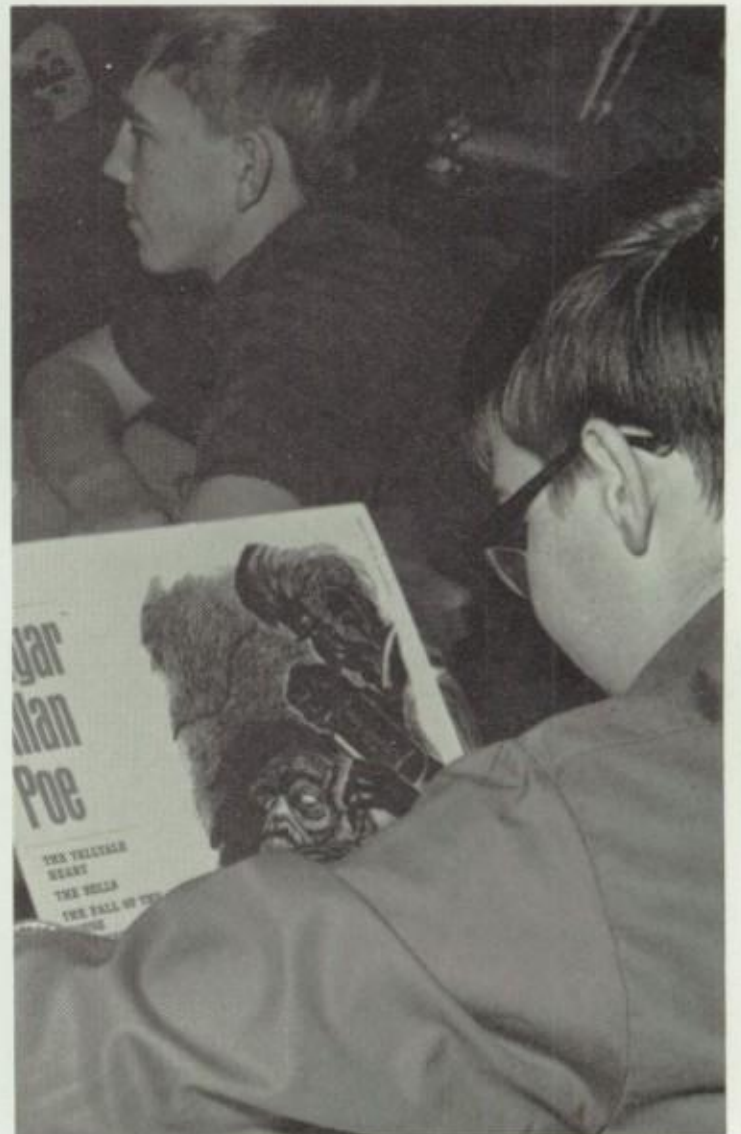

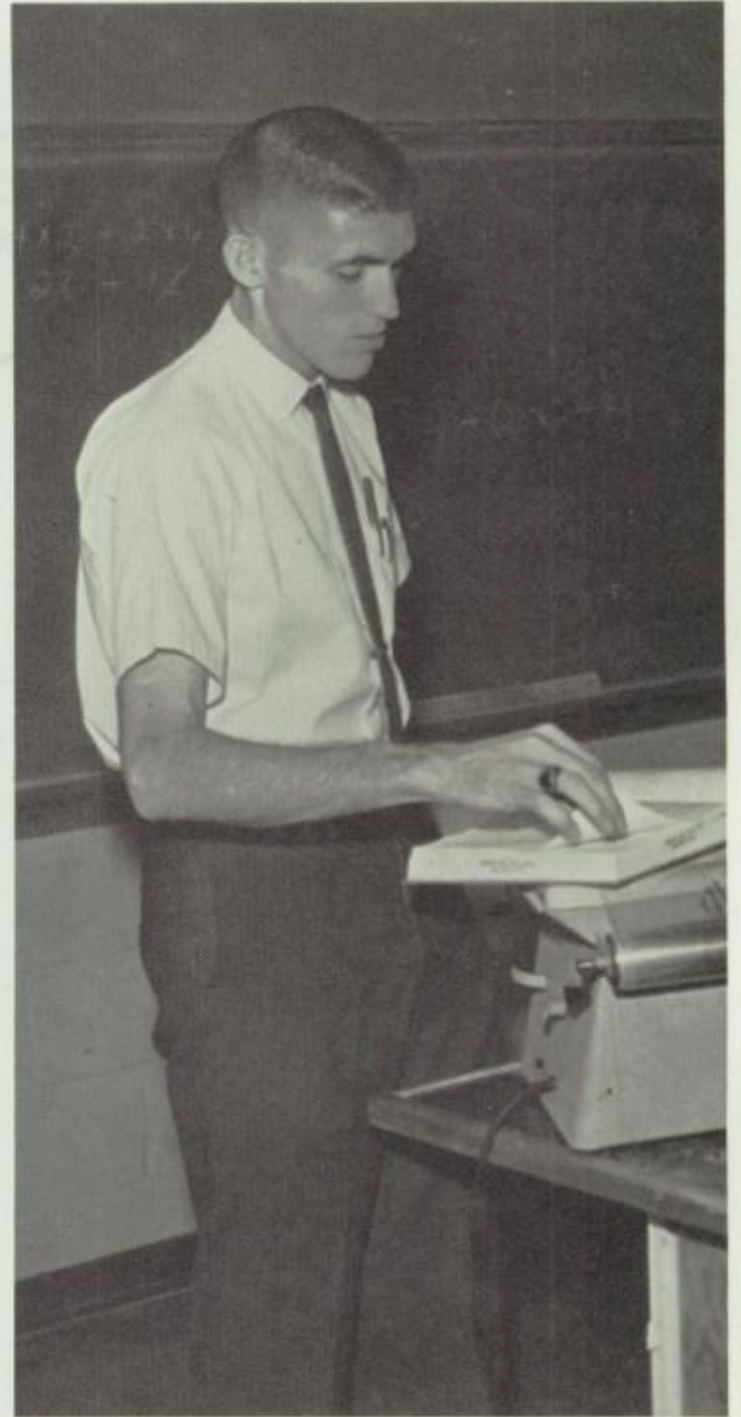

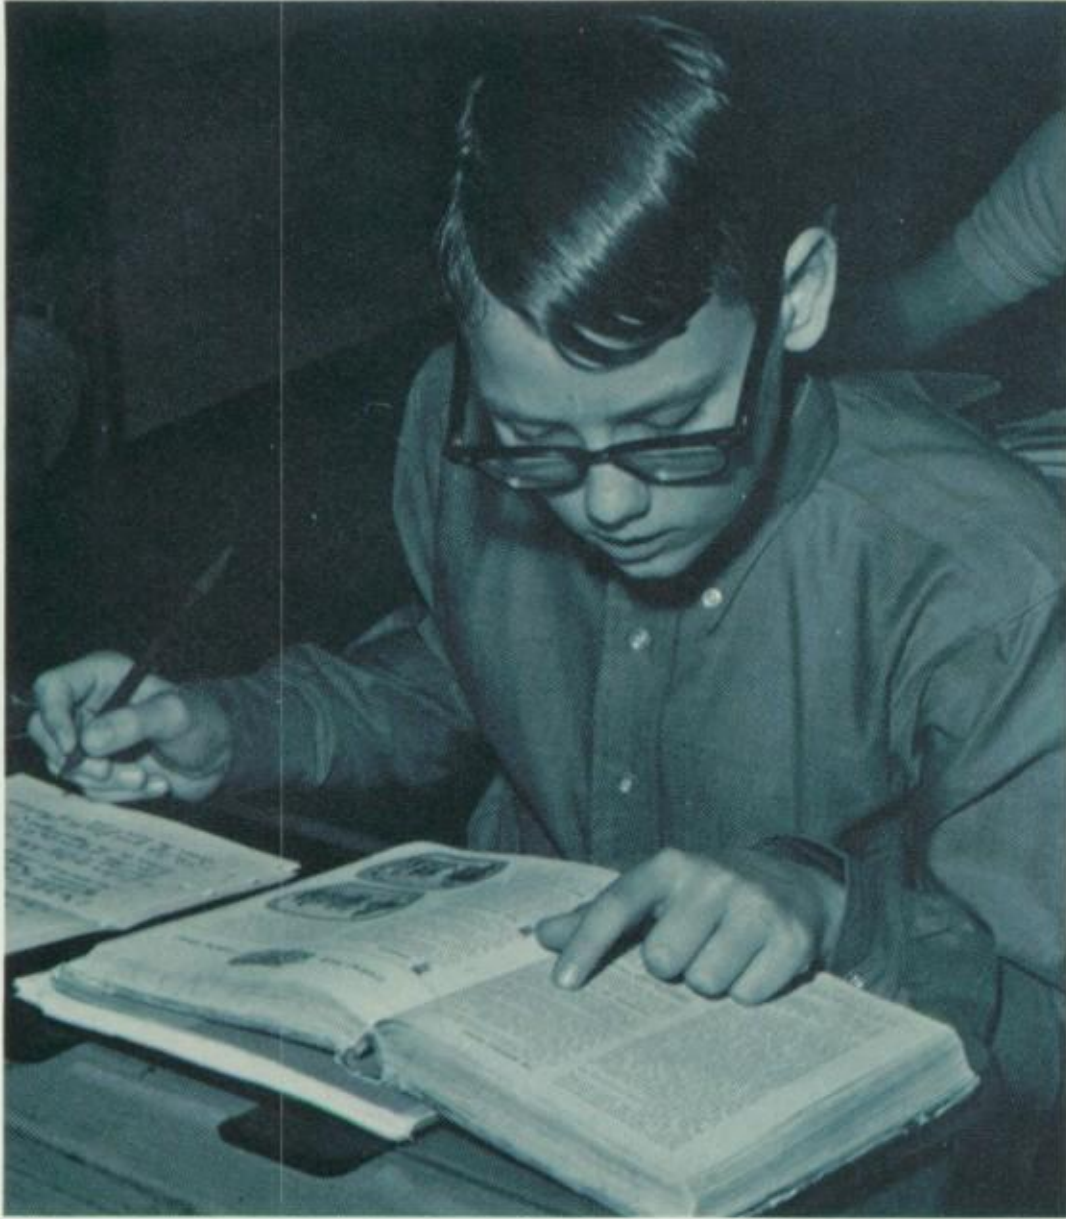

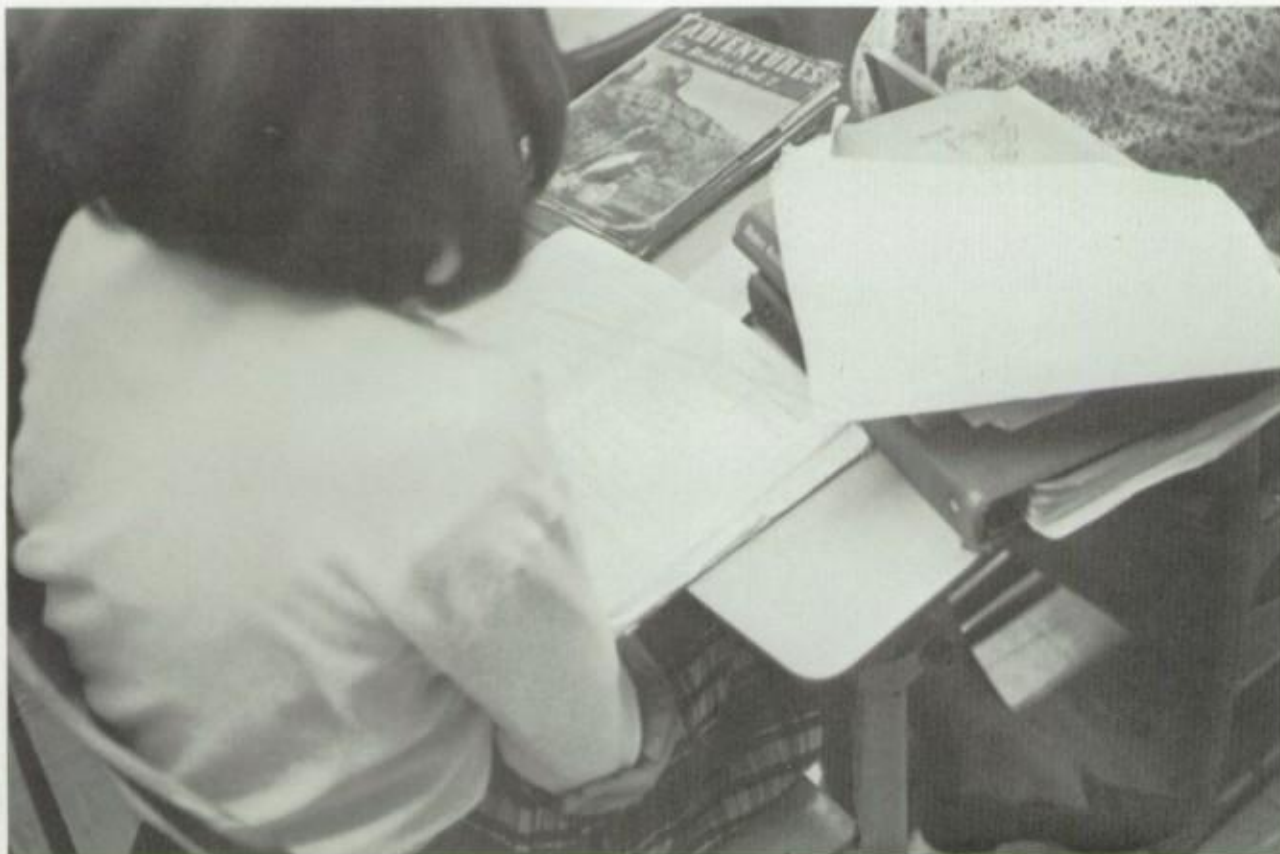

The Flow of Knowledge

Ideas ebb and flow in the mind like the tides of the Seas. The purpose of a school is to channel and guide these ideas into the reservoir of society. Let us here dedicate ourselves to this noble purpose.

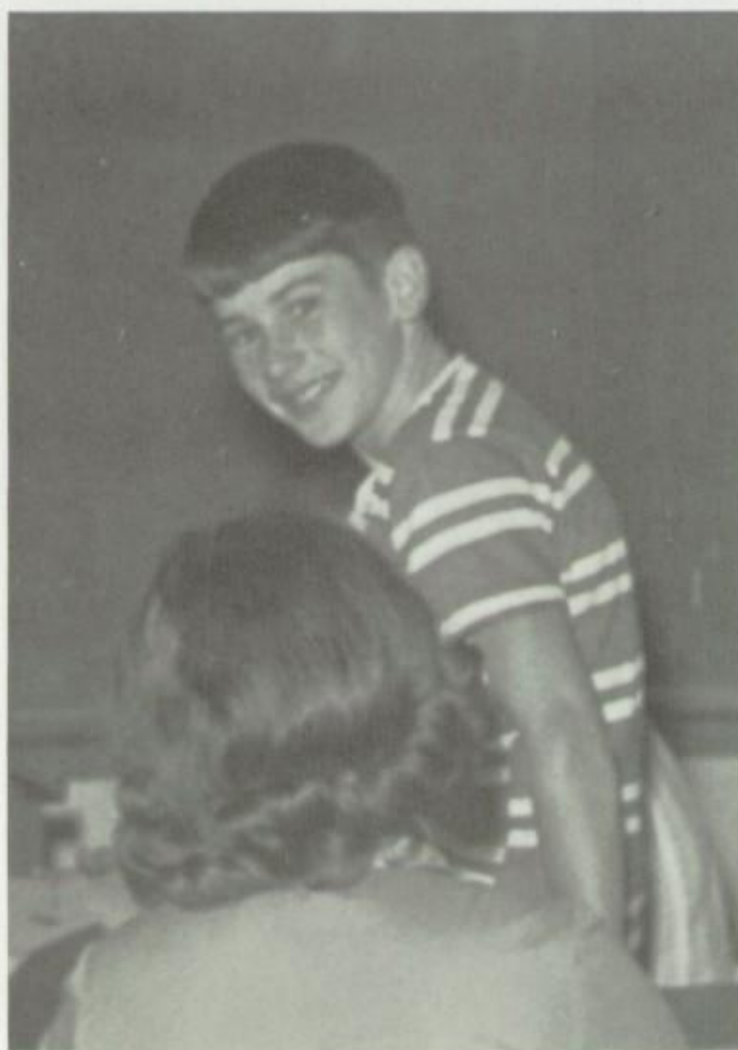

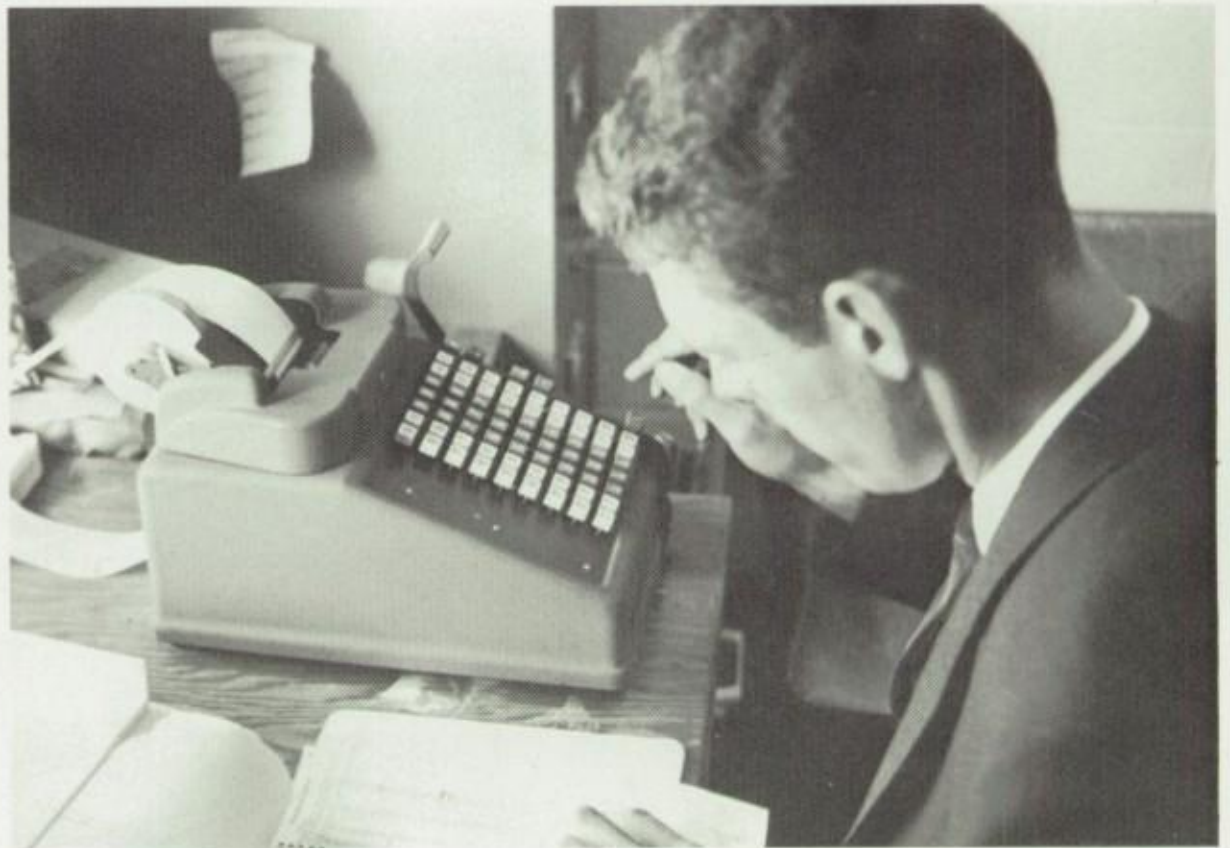

The Search Is an

A school is only as good as its underclassmen. The grade school and Junior High provide a solid foundation for achievement in the Wells Senior High School.

for Excellence Early Goal

The fundamentals which they achieve are instrumental in their success. Students and teachers, working in harmony, strive for excellence.

Reflections in the Mirror of Time

The great mirror of time reflects the pain, loneliness, joy, and beauty of life. In the mirror a thousand faces or one face--they all abound with the one quality which makes human beings unique: personality.

Homecoming—1967

The Roachdale basketball game provided an exciting and tense atmosphere for the first annual Homecoming of Granville Wells High School. As the first graduates of Granville Wells, the class of 1956 was appropriately honored.

The four radiant candidates, escorted by the class presidents, took their places near the throne.

Cloyce Hedge, the captain of the basketball team, placed the crown upon the head of the queen, Miss Diana Shelton, and sealed the coronation ceremony with a kiss.

The Development of Skills Is Beneficial

The skills developed here provide a solid link between academic achievement and the realization of life goals.

The queen of the annual Snowball Dance, held on the eve of December 17, 1966, was the elegant Miss Janice MacKinnon. The gym was beautifully decorated in aqua blue and white with shining, sparkling snowflakes adding to the beauty of the dark mysterious night. Music was provided by the "New Society", a very original band, from the society of Naptown.

Isn't School Exhausting!!

I don't believe it!!

It really tastes good!

Each year, the "Daughters of the American Revolution" administers a test to a selected senior girl from each high school in Indiana. This year Kathy Emmert was the Granville Wells' representative, reflecting her high character and intellect, as well as her knowledge of current affairs.

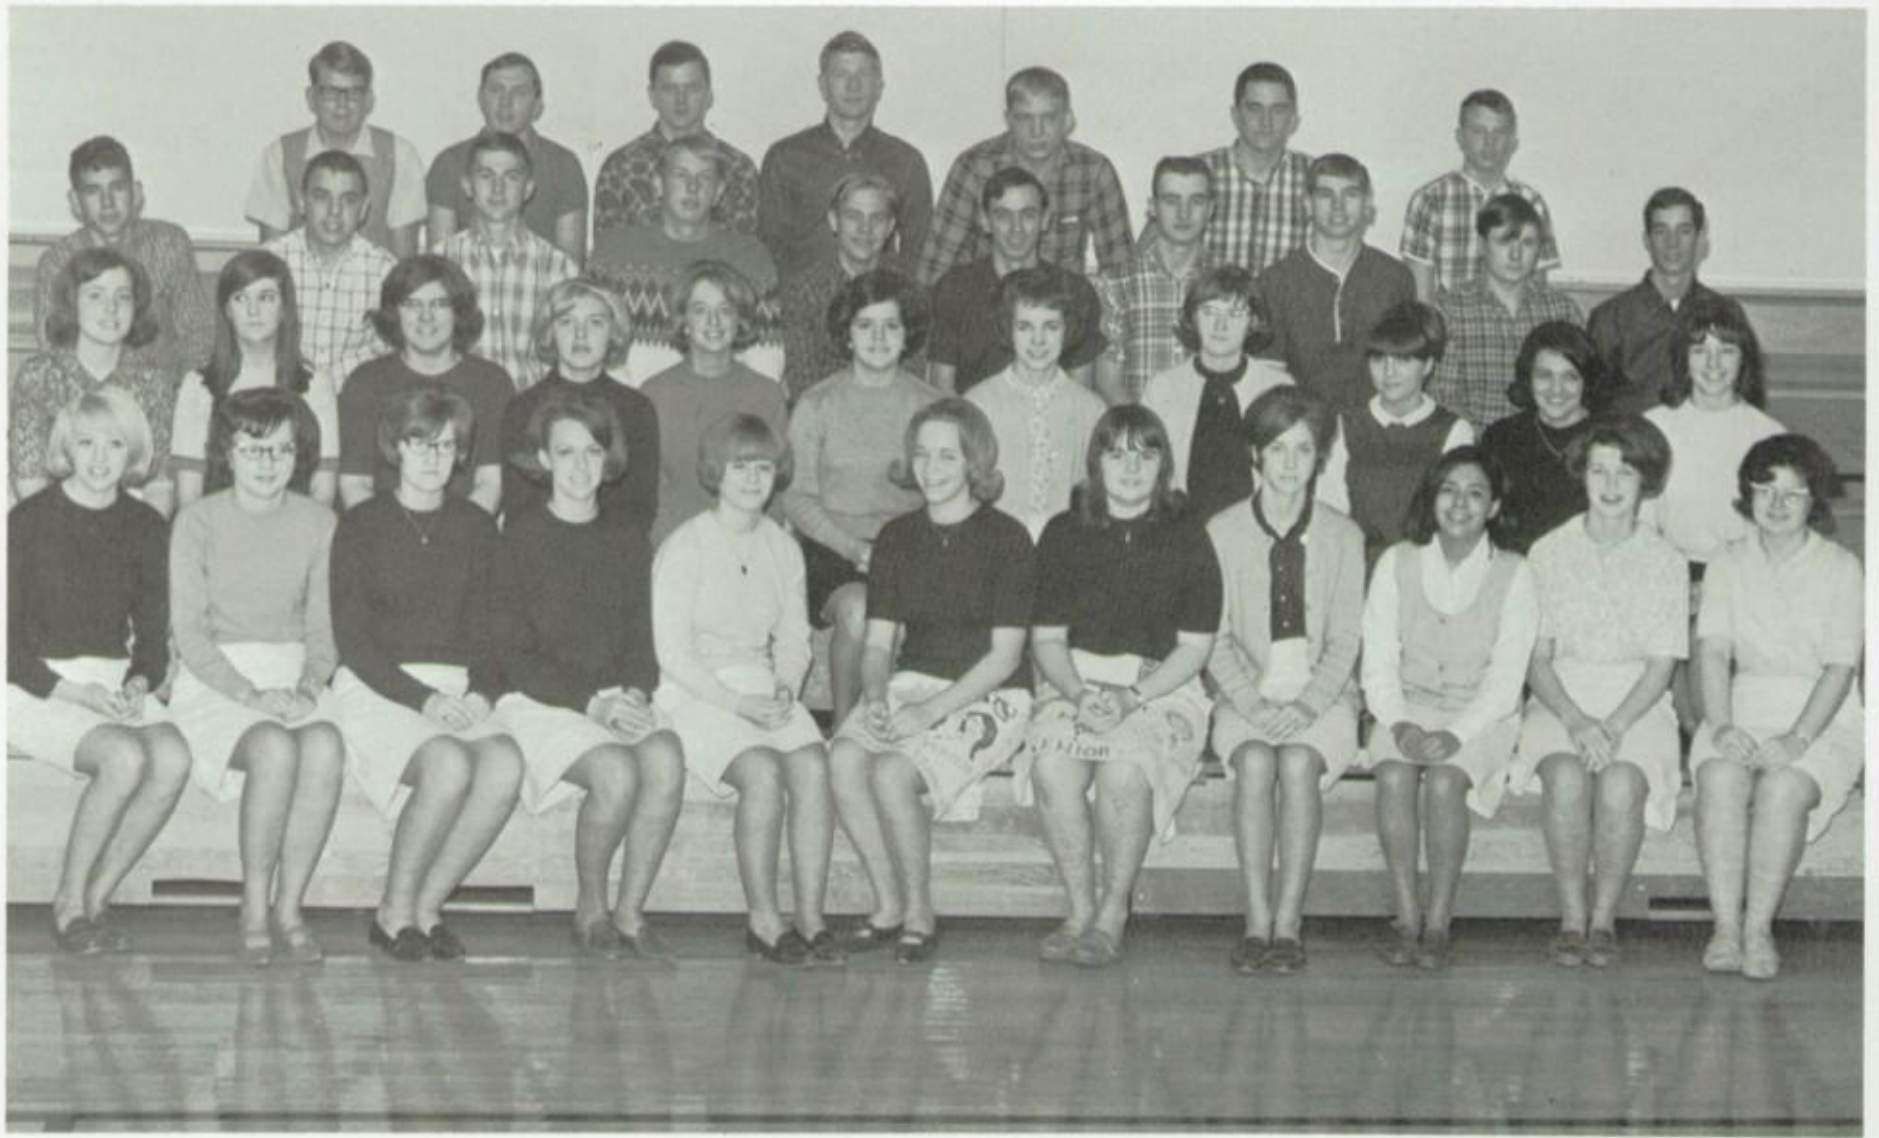

Young Democratic Representatives

Marilyn Kincaid and Kathy Emmert represented Wells at the 1966 Girls' State. Our representatives to Boys' State were Terry Whiteman and Marvin Keffer. These four seniors had the privilege of watching and participating in the mock government which was established in the exact fashion of our actual democracy.

In the United States we have many freedoms but one of the most important is that of the right to vote. We are allowed to choose our representatives and our leaders and these men are duty-bound to do the bidding of the people. We are the government and the nation, and it is our duty and privilege to fulfill our part in making this a nation where men are free and there is justice for everyone.

Betty Crocker Award

One of the stalwarts of the American scene is the homemaker, prompt and efficient in her duties. Each year the Betty Crocker Company recognizes the senior girl most qualified in the field of Home Economics. This year Brenda Smith is the recipient of this honor.
